Nice to meet you, gorgeous...

I'm Sabrina Cheema, your very own Gok Wan, or, as I've previously been referred to, your Wardrobe Fairy Godmother. My aim as your Personal Stylist is to help you to feel cool, comfortable and confident, not just in your clothes, but also your own skin, so that you can finally start living the full, extraordinary, self-loving life that you deserve. How exactly? I'm going to give you some of the answers here in this download, but first I want to share why I'm taking the time to put this beauty together for you. I was recently organising my emails, DMs and reviews and saw lots of messages like this...

RE: Just Checking In

06 May, 17:43

Hey love,

All ok thanks. Yes loved some of the links, just waiting for delivery's on the parcels!

Smashed it as always.

Omg, thank you soo much for opening the world of shopping up for me. Honestly never ever thought ASOS, and now a good couple of hundred spent over there!

All the links worked! And it was like an online goody bag to see, I loved it.

I Honestly wished I made a video of my little one, saying ooo wow, trying to copy me everytime I opened a link. 🍷 thank you!

I had an online shopping session with Sabrina. The initial consultation was really informative and informal. Sabrina knows that people want to feel amazing and wear things that suit them, which is really comforting. The follow up session after I purchased some of the items was great, putting together my new purchases and ways to wear them. From 4 pieces she has given me 11 outfit options! Thank you Sabrina!

I cannot recommend Sabrina's personal stylist services enough. I started with a consultation, in which Sabrina made me feel really comfortable and relaxed. The consultation was so well structured and it was the perfect mix of informative and open discussion. I had chosen the Online Shopping service and received such a varied and detailed list of recommended items that suited my body shape, style personality, wardrobe needs and budget. The follow up session was definitely my favourite part of the whole process, Sabrina made me feel so enthusiastic about my purchases and confident in my new pieces. It also felt like she'd injected some life into my old wardrobe through her suggestions of how to mix and match items. For anyone thinking about giving it a go, my only recommendation (apart from go for it!) would be to over order. Don't be afraid to buy things in multiple sizes, not only does it mean you'll likely go over the minimum spend and get free delivery, but also you won't be disappointed if you come to try something on for the follow up session and it doesn't fit properly.

Can't recommend enough! Such good value for money, Sabrina made me feel like a new woman!

I had the online Shopping session as I'm so fed up of ordering loads of clothes online and having the hassle of sending them all back when they don't look right! I told Sabrina my budget with not working during furlough and she got me lots of links in the sales and provided me with plenty of outfit options for my price range. Sabrina put lots of effort into making sure she knew me, my style and my life style before sending the outfits over. I was so impressed with how many outfits she sent me, I was honestly expecting about 3 or 4 outfit options but she send me 2 pages full of outfits which would suit me and my shape whilst looking fashionable. I always have these links too to go back and buy different things when I want too. We then zoomed when the clothes came and Sabrina shown me how to wear the clothes I had order and how to get 2 or 3 different outfits from one piece of clothing which is priceless for me.

I have so much more confidence now and love my new clothes! Sabrina was so understanding and lovely throughout the process- I loved it and would 100% recommend!!!!!!

It literally lights up my heart knowing that I help women to fall back in love with their body, their wardrobe, their reflection and most importantly themselves.

BUT I also know how disheartening it can be to actually try and put the outfits together, especially if your body has changed, you're unsure of what to look for after 2 years of being at home or you genuinely just don't have the time to scroll online endlessly.

I get it, because I've been there too!

This is why I wanted to support you, to give you some ideas on what to look for for your individual body shape this Summer, to get you excited about your clothes again and to open you up to the world of someone else doing your shopping and outfit planning for you. (I've even linked the outfits so you can buy them without searching or scrolling endlessly - another perk of having your own stylist.)

So, let's dive in...

When shopping, we often make the mistake of thinking it's just a matter of buying what we like the look of, and obviously that's important, but that's why we all end up with a bunch of stuff we like but don't wear.

Unfortunately, getting an effective wardrobe where nothing is wasted and everything works requires a bit more work. When you're planning on buying anything, you have to follow these three steps:

Before Shopping - KNOW YOURSELF

Be aware of your body shape, your desired style aesthetic, your budget, where and how you can wear the item, what you already have in your wardrobe to wear it with. This will stop you from buying random pieces and ensure that you have full outfits.

During Shopping - INVEST IN YOURSELF

Really take the time to properly browse, block out some undisturbed 'you' time so that you can focus and buy the right things for the right reasons. Also don't be afraid to buy, remember that everything can be returned.

After Shopping - BE KIND TO YOURSELF

Once your items arrive/you bring them home, give yourself the time to really try them on. Again set time aside to style them with things from your existing wardrobe. And, most importantly, don't blame yourself if things don't fit, don't look right or don't appear as they seemed. Shopping is a trial and error activity (even when you're an expert!).

Or, of course, you can hand all of this over to your Stylist and she can do all of the above for you, which I've done for you today...

Over the next few pages, I've sourced 5 different outfits for YOUR body shape that will have you feeling like a Goddess this Summer. If you click on the outfit, it will take you to my LTK where each and every single item is linked for you. Happy Shopping!
